(54) Title: GEAR PUMP EXTRUDERS

(57) Abstract: An extruder for polymeric or elastomeric material includes a gear pump having a casing (1) in which a pair of toothed gearwheels (20, 21) rotate, a feed inlet (24) for feeding material into an intake nip between a gearwheel (20) and the casing (1), and an outlet (25) for the material. In order to provide a substantially continuous feed of material, and for degaging of the material, at least one recess (13) is provided in the casing for the intake nip, to prevent feed strip or sheet being cut off at the nip. Air or gas will tend to be expelled backwards through the inlet (24), or may be expelled by a non-fed gearwheel (21). An escape passage may be provided for such air or gas.
